A first impression

Spacious detached/two-family house with granny apartment, lots of potential and large garden in a prime location.

A detached detached to semi-detached house with granny apartment from 1967 is for sale. With approx. 313 m² of living space and a spacious plot of around 1,275 m², this property offers a wide range of potential uses - whether for personal use, as a multi-generational home or as an investment.

The house is in a well-kept condition in keeping with its year of construction and is ideal for buyers looking for a property with character and potential for expansion.

The property is divided into a spacious main house with 7 rooms and a separately accessible granny apartment with approx. 65 m² and 2 rooms - ideal for guests, a family member with their own household or for renting out.

Depending on requirements, the granny apartment can be extended to up to 142 m², for example by integrating the upper floor. Alternatively, the upper floor can be used as an independent unit - connections for the kitchen and bathroom are already available.

The inviting entrance area with checkroom and guest WC leads into the bright, open-plan living area with library and fireplace, a separate living room (also with fireplace) and a dining room. High-quality wooden fittings, large windows and floor-to-ceiling doors to the garden create a warm, stylish living atmosphere.

A highlight is the spacious, partially covered terrace with outdoor fireplace - perfect for relaxing hours outdoors. Other outdoor areas such as a covered seating area and a balcony on the upper floor offer additional living comfort in a green setting.

The converted basement includes a sports room, a guest room, several storage rooms and a cellar bar with a tiled stove - ideal for sociable evenings. An integrated safe room with a separate escape route offers additional security.

External roller shutters and bars provide additional protection. The interior of the house is characterized by high-quality materials: from ceramic and marble floors to carpets and silk-covered wall panelling. The separate kitchen, with its connection to the adjoining utility room, offers the best conditions for sophisticated cooking projects. The covered terrace and garage can also be accessed from here.

Architecturally, the house sets stylish accents with an artistically designed entrance door and a combination of plastered and brick façade. Underfloor heating in the TV room complements the central gas heating via radiators, which supplies the entire house. Technical details such as copper pipes, a water filter system, a roof covering made of durable slate and an alarm system (currently decommissioned) underline the high standard of fittings.

An additional highlight: the currently disused swimming pool on the first floor, which is directly adjacent to the master bedroom with dressing room and can be reactivated - with a wonderful view of the garden.

The lovingly landscaped, fully enclosed garden creates peace and privacy - ideal for families and nature lovers. Three garages provide convenient parking and additional storage space.

Conclusion:

This property combines generous space, flexible usage options and upscale furnishings on a prestigious plot. It offers space for individual living dreams, family concepts or attractive investments.
